

JLL privacy commitment

At JLL, we care about individual privacy in everything we do

We have been handling personal information responsibly for over 250 years. Our clients, business partners and employees trust us to do so in accordance with applicable privacy and information security laws. We are committed to designing and using new technology ethically and protecting data with appropriate security measures. Since we value individual trust in us, we are committed to doing things the right way.

Our privacy program strategy is based on the accountability principle, which is consistent with international privacy principles, legal requirements, commercial obligations, and JLL's business values and purpose, to shape the future of the real estate for a better world. For more information about how we handle your personal information, please see our Privacy Statement.
